DEPARTMENT OF COMPUTER SCIENCE

CS 101: Introduction to Information Security

Course Syllabus · Spring 2026

Instructor: Prof. S. Banerjee | Email: s.banerjee@university.edu

1. Course Description

This course introduces fundamental concepts in cryptography, system security, network defense, and document authenticity. Students will explore threat modeling, HMAC constructions, and forensic verification workflows.

2. Academic Integrity Policy

All distributed lecture materials and problem sets are personalized and tracked. Unauthorized distribution or leaking of course material is strictly prohibited.

CS 101: Course Syllabus (Page 2)

3. Grading Breakdown

· Lab Exercises: 30%

· Midterm Examination: 25%

· Forensic Research Project: 25%

· Final Examination: 20%

4. Office Hours and Contact

Office hours are held Tuesdays and Thursdays, 2:00 PM · 4:00 PM in CS-402.